Dave,
 According to the Agricultural Agreement between Israel and the US from 2004 (ATAP), carp is not exempted from custom duties. Last December the Israeli customs realized that according to the tariff list there is no customs on the importation of carp to Israel. That was amended. A few weeks ago a representative of the relevant company in Illinois contacted our trade mission to inquire about the new customs tariff and was told that it would apply to all the carp his company will send to Israel. Therefore it should not have been a surprise to the company this new customs tariff. There are now 2 containers of the fish that are sitting in the port in Israel waiting to be cleared and there are another 7 containers waiting in Illinois to get the green light to leave for Israel. Our trade representative here thinks he could get an exemption for the two containers already in Israel from the new customs tariff but probably not for the other 7. We at the embassy have asked the highest political level in Israel to see if we could get an exemption from customs for all the 9 containers.

Hi Daniel-We're not just concerned about customs, but would like to understand what the issue is preventing delivery. Thanks. Dave

Ohad

This is from Secretary Clinton's office. Can you understand why he thinks the customs was paid?

Hi Daniel-Sorry to bother you on shabbat, but during yesterday's hearing with the Secretary, Rep Manzullo he asked her to help soert out the issue of gifilte fish shipments from a plant in his district to Israel. She, of course, said she would. So, I'm asking for some help in sorting through this. I have heard that the Israeli customer may have paid the duty, but this is unconfirmed. Any light you could shed on this would be appreciated. BTW, my cell number is  Thanks. Dave
