Pat,

I heard it went well. They got to the Montana when there was still about a half hour of light. [redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted] American SAR personnel discussed each specific site within the Montana with the families and they could see the immense challenge of doing more than had already been done. [redacted]

[redacted] Recovery operations had already begun and seven bodies (if I remember the number correctly) were extracted this afternoon, including a number of Amcits. [redacted]

[redacted]

Cheers, David

David

Any feedback on atmospheric?

Regards

Pat
