I don't think I made any progress. What will it mean if we can't raise the remaining $? Where else can we try?

I noticed on your schedule that you are meeting with a number of tech CEO's this evening. Google should be an obvious co-sponsor of the USA Pavilion and they have consistently pushed us off. Although they bring up IP issues as a reason not to participate, the Chinese frequently note that they do a lot of business in China. We are now at $54 million. If the opportunity arises, it would be helpful to note the importance of a USA standing in Shanghai.
