I'm borrowing Eric's computer as my low side is still down. I can be reached on SIPR.

Further to my email on the high side, the Secretary General just called Susan, to report that Dervis is unavailable to take the job down [redacted] As the Turkish PR told Susan last, night, the Secretary General also indicated that the Turks are pressing him to chose, Yasar Yakis, a former Turkish foreign minister and ambassador to NATO, Egypt and Saudi Arabia (a bio is attached). The Secretary General is seriously considering him, and has asked for the USG's thoughts. [redacted]

Please copy Salman Ahmed (copied here), Eric Pelofsky and Calista Johnson so that I see your responses while my email problems are fixed. Alternatively, Dan/Sam if you want to convene a conference call, that might be faster. I am free at 11:00.

Thanks -
Erica
